Assignments

In Zangle teachers who are using the Zangle GradeBook application have the option to publish assignment information on the web and make it accessible to StudentConnection on a course by course basis. They can choose to publish things such as the name of the assignment, due date, points possible, points awarded, current semester grade, class average and comments which the teacher has entered for the specific assignment. This gives students the opportunity to view upcoming assignments, their grade to date on an assignment and whether they are missing an assignment. The teacher may also choose to hide certain assignments, assignment averages, comments for a particular assignment or the current semester grade for the course. You can filter on the assignment screen and choose to view assignments for 'Last/Next Week', or choose to view 'All Assignments' by toggling the link in the upper right hand of the assignments screen.

- An assignment displayed in red font, that assignment has a due date which has passed but the teacher has not yet posted the grades for that particular assignment.
- Notepad next to the assignment date due will display assignment details when it is expanded. If the notepad is blank, there are no assignment details entered for that particular assignment.
- Scored As, a teacher has the option of scoring assignments differently based on certain criteria. For example, if a student turned in a late assignment the teacher has the option to grade that particular assignment at a different percentage than an assignment which was turned in on time.
- Comments are an area where teachers can enter specific comments regarding the grade received for the assignment.
- Current Grade is your current calculated grade to date for that course. This does not necessarily mean that this is your final grade in a class, but your grade through the current date. This is a field which may be hidden at the course teacher's discretion.

Progress Reports

You can click the 'Print Progress Report' link underneath a teacher's name to generate a printable progress report for that particular class (Adobe Acrobat Reader Required). You can use the print command in the reader to print a version of your Progress Report to the printer of your choice.

Marks

The Marks section of the application will compile a list for you of all of your report card marks that have been posted throughout the current school year.

Terms: Your terms will be represented by term codes in the subheadings such as 'S1', 'S2' which would represent Semester 1 and Semester 2 or 'Q1', 'Q2', 'Q3' which would be representative of 'Quarter 1', 'Quarter 2', 'Quarter 3' and so on. These may vary due to the time of year (summer school vs. regular year) and school to school.

Mark Types: Mark types may vary according to school and course type. The most common types of marks are Academic marks (A-F) and Citizenship marks. Marks may be displayed as a letter grades for secondary schools and numeric grades for primary schools.

Comments: Comments may be entered by at a teacher's discretion and are pre-defined by your school district. The number that immediately precedes the comment description is a code that is used by the system.
